THE Roosevelt Administration can help stem the forces of economic reaction by dealing constructively with the causes of business fears.

THE British Trades Union Act of 1927 con-

Such a well rounded statute would make for peace at home in the industrial field, ending the recent digression in the direction of class warfare and chaos.

Kennedy Silent On 'Resignation'

Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission, today declined to deny a widely rumored report that he is about to resign from government service.

Kennedy has been under attack by the National Maritime Union (N.M.U.) CIO affiliate in connection with the Algir case, in which 14 sailors have been jailed in Baltimore for refusing to work on a government-owned vessel while in Montevideo.

Jewish Women Hit Curb on Palestine

Hadassah in Atlantic City Meeting Opposes Immigration Ban

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 28 (AP)—Having heard predictions of more persecution of Jews in Europe, the women's Zionist organization of America—the Hadassah—was resolved today to fight against "political" restriction of Jewish emigration to Palestine.

The 20th delegates to the Hadassah's 22nd annual conference unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the Palestine government's recent decree restricting Jewish immigration on the basis of the country's political, rather than economic, absorptive capacity.

Mrs. Edward Jacobs of New York, president of the organization, sponsored the resolution, which said the decree violated an agreement under which the Jews were to be taken into Palestine as rapidly as the land could economically support them.

It was Rabbi Stephen R. Wise of New York who preached first attacks against Jews in Europe to advance the cause of democracy as a basis of keeping out of "political" restriction of Jewish immigration.

He predicted that the world would soon take new measures against the Jews.

JERUSALEM, Oct. 27 (AP)—Three tonight added fresh terror to the anguishing list of Holy Land perils.

Flames bellicked incendiary bombs in the Jewish quarter of the Old City, near the Temple Mount. The government Arab police were at the scene.

MISS HAH MELASON Discouraged, Stalwarts Poison

Discouraged because she has been unable to find employment, Miss Hah Melason, 22, of Melrose street, Lexington, today attempted to end her life by swallowing a number of poison tablets in the Belmont Square subway station, police reported.

A few minutes after she had taken the poison the girl was taken to the hospital, where she was found by the police.

She had just taken some poison. I don't want to die now. Please get me to the hospital.

"I have just taken some poison. I don't want to die now. Please get me to the hospital."

At the City Hospital, the girl reported that she had taken the poison because she was discouraged and had no money to live on.

Young Mother And 3 United By Court

Judge Bars Stories About "Woman Who Hates All Men"

A probable court judge defense of a young mother's home today brought about a "happy ending" between Mrs. Elizabeth M. Burke, 23, and her three small children, whom she had not seen for two months.

Judge Edward B. O'Brien of the superior court today ordered that Mrs. Burke be allowed to see her children, who are now in the custody of the state.

The children, three, one-year-old and two, were taken today to the City Hospital, where they will be with Mrs. Burke until she can be released.

I. S. Opposes Foreign Tangles

Questionnaire Replies Show Nation Solid Against Alliances

Recently, as congressmen at home delayed immediate answer to the seven-point poll conducted by the Boston Evening American on the question of whether American foreign policy should swing away from isolation, the eventual answer from the congressmen has been "no."

Many have stated that on receipt of these questions by telegram they waited on their replies until they had consulted with key men whom they regarded as barometers of sentiment in their districts.

In view of this the general tenor of the law replies to the questionnaire are all the more reassuring that America as a whole believes in three-hour peace, that the United States must continue to avoid foreign entanglements.

DEMANDS PEACE
Representative William F. Barry, Democrat of Jamaica, N. Y., is one of the latest to answer the questionnaire. He writes:

"It is my firm conviction that in all disputes and wars between foreign countries, which do not directly involve the United States, we should observe strict neutrality. At the present time, the nations of the world are either trying to acquire new territories or hang on to what they have. It seems that whatever the result, the result will be a new world war. What we want in this country is PEACE, and the way to maintain it is to stay out of all foreign entanglements."

"We should not pass moral judgments on warring nations. I am opposed to taking part in any conference which may involve us on one side or another in quarrels of others. It has been said that America never lost a war or won a conference. I believe that to be fundamentally correct. What we want in this country is PEACE, and the way to maintain it is to stay out of all foreign entanglements."

'Athletic Night' At Boys' Club

The Boy's Club of Boston will hold Father and Sons Athletic Night Friday evening at the club headquarters.

Principal speakers of the evening will be Thomas H. Green, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, Joseph F. Timony, police commissioner, and Jack Chassey, sports editor of the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

Boxing, basketball and other sports will feature the program.

Rindge Alumni Plan Reunion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Reports of activities in the various alumni groups will feature the annual meeting of the Rindge States Alumni Association, opening tomorrow for two days in the National Museum.

The committee, headed by the department of Anthropology, Yale, will represent Connecticut at the meeting.

Rindge Grads Plan Meeting of Alumni

Hundreds of graduates of Rindge Technical School, Cambridge, Mass., will meet in the alumni association to plan the Rindge Technical School 50th anniversary of the school, John W. Laguarda, chairman of the school anniversary committee, said that wide attendance and funds will attend the meeting necessary for adequate arrangements.

200 at Curio Club Will Hear Tague

Partisan Peter P. Tague will be guest speaker at tonight's very sizable meeting of Southern States and Curio Club at Hotel Lincoln. It is expected that one hundred and fifty will attend. An excellent entertainment has been arranged and good prices will be distributed.

SHOULD U. S. CHANGE ITS FOREIGN POLICY?

Subsequent to President Roosevelt's Chicago speech, advocating a "guarantee" of warlike nations, the Boston Evening American asked Senators and Representatives, by telegram to answer the following seven questions:

- 1—Do you think United States should abide by the historical policy and keep free from league of foreign nations or do you think new conditions make new policies necessary?
- 2—Do you think United States should make new peace-power treaty party and take sides in present foreign conflicts?
- 3—Do you think United States should act with league or combination of foreign nations and resort to force or to hostile acts to repulse war?
- 4—If the United States is to participate in foreign wars as they arise, should the United States by itself determine which nation is the aggressor or the guilty party or
- 5—should it be guided by a majority vote of a league or party of foreign nations?
- 6—Do you think the United States can bear alone its expense in war by trying to repulse warring nations or by keeping entirely free from war itself and from the wars of others?
- 7—If the United States is to participate in foreign wars which side should we take in the Spanish conflict, the Panist of the Communist side?
- 8—If the United States is to participate in foreign wars, do you or do you not think that the very vital question of participating in any foreign war could best be decided by a referendum vote of the people?

Battle Is Active For Mackey Post

Candidates Meet Supporters: Dr. Gately Advocates 7-Year Night Course

The five candidates seeking election to the two-year term in the Boston school committee were extremely active today as they battle to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. Charles E. Mackey entered its final phase.

Three of the group, John C. Glavin, of Dorchester; Dr. George L. Gately, of East Boston; and Joseph C. White, of Jamaica Plain, today held meetings near one of their supporters.

Miss Josephine Lally, of Dorchester, and Edith M. White, of Charlestown, the other contenders, are scheduled to hold similar meetings tomorrow.

Dr. Gately today advocated a suggestion which he believes will solve the problem of the high school student who is compelled to drop

NIGHT SCHOOL

The physician believes that a seven-year night high school course should be provided by the city to boys and girls laboring under the burden of financial difficulties.

During the seven-year period such students would be given opportunity to acquire as much knowledge as would come to them in four years of day school work.

Dr. Gately said that he had been awarded a grant in a period of study which he is now completing by institutions of higher education.

John C. Glavin, of Dorchester, today stressed the need of a financial aid program in the school committee. At the same time he announced that his candidacy has been endorsed by the members of the Ward Eight Democratic Club.

Dr. Gately, who is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said he can raise a fund of $25,000 to enable working boys to continue in the school.

FORMER SENATOR

C. White, who is now in the state department of public utility, is a former member of the state senate.

Miss Lally, the only woman in the race, is a former member of the state senate.

Dr. Gately, who is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said he can raise a fund of $25,000 to enable working boys to continue in the school.

G. O. P. Leaders 'Break' Is Awaited In Rivals' Camps

Split on Choice For Mayor Shift of Allegiance Among Six Fields Of Candidates Observers' Prediction

Political observers today were speculating as to what "break" will come in Boston's majority contest between tonight and next Monday evening when the campaign comes to a close.

The situation is so tense that something is bound to occur to alter the routine of rallies and speeches and name-calling, these observers believe.

The general opinion among most watchers is that a sudden shift of allegiance may occur as groups of supporters of the various candidates begin to desert their own camps.

Some political circles have forecast endorsement of majority candidate will next Monday. The

SPORTS BUILD BEAUTY

If you are looking for a pleasant way of keeping in trim, play tennis, fence or swim. These three sports head the list in the development of beautiful figures.

Engage in an exercise program several times a week and you will be practically guaranteed that you will be examined more often.

ANALYST'S RECOMMENDATION: "If you are a sedentary person, you should engage in an exercise program several times a week. This will help you to maintain a healthy weight and reduce the risk of heart disease. The American Heart Association recommends at least 30 minutes of moderate exercise most days of the week. This can be broken up into smaller sessions throughout the day. For example, you could take a 10-minute walk after each meal. Consistency is key. Even a small amount of regular exercise can make a big difference in your health. If you have any underlying health conditions, consult your doctor before starting an exercise program. They can help you choose the right type and intensity of exercise for you. Remember, the goal is to be active, not to overexert yourself. Listen to your body and take breaks when needed. Over time, you will notice improvements in your energy, mood, and overall health. Regular exercise is one of the best ways to prevent chronic diseases and live a longer, healthier life. So, get moving today! Your future self will thank you."

This can be broken up into smaller sessions throughout the day. For example, you could take a 10-minute walk after each meal. Consistency is key. Even a small amount of regular exercise can make a big difference in your health. If you have any underlying health conditions, consult your doctor before starting an exercise program. They can help you choose the right type and intensity of exercise for you. Remember, the goal is to be active, not to overexert yourself. Listen to your body and take breaks when needed. Over time, you will notice improvements in your energy, mood, and overall health. Regular exercise is one of the best ways to prevent chronic diseases and live a longer, healthier life. So, get moving today! Your future self will thank you."

Stirring Story of Modern Love in America

He and Ruth had a lovely home—they bought the old Ramsey place—and remodeled it. He still lives there with the baby—it's a girl, a year and a half. Mrs. Wagner said, "Mr. Wagner's dead now, and I suppose she's glad to have someone of her own."

"My identity."

She was pale with weepiness when she came downstairs the evening of a calamitous dinner party. The guests were all shocked. It was shadowed by the awful fate of a brother gone. There came that night, when the guests were all at the occasion was truly a fearful one and she did not of high need to be so pale and so sad. She had been smiling for the first time in her life.

The two men, standing near the window, were talking. The man was the same tall, thin, pale man, the same thin, pale man, the same thin, pale man. He was talking about the "temple" at Fort St. Louis, and the "temple" at Fort St. Louis, and the "temple" at Fort St. Louis.

"And here's Linda! Linda,"

Audit of Books In Pawtucket Is Reported

Quinn-O'Hara Battle Becomes Mesh of Legal Moves

By JAMES J. DELANEY
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 22.—The audit of the books of the Pawtucket branch of the Quinn-O'Hara battle, which has been in progress since the death of the author, is reported to be a complex and lengthy process. The books, which are believed to contain valuable information regarding the author's life and work, are being examined by a committee of legal and literary experts. The process is expected to take several months to complete.

Writing Expert Says Mrs. Hahn Forged Will

Osborn Testifies Signature "Poor Imitation"

By JAMES J. DELANEY
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 22.—A writing expert, who testified today in court, said that the signature on the will of Mrs. Hahn was a "poor imitation" of the author's signature. The expert, who is well-known in the literary world, was called to the stand by the defense to testify that the will was not signed by Mrs. Hahn. The case is being heard in the Superior Court of Providence.

Montague's $1,000,000 Future Hits Many Snags

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—John Montague's future in the movie and radio mediums, destined for great heights, today has been hit by a sudden, unexpected snag.

The snag is in the form of a lawsuit filed by a rival producer, who claims that Montague has stolen his ideas. The lawsuit is expected to be a major obstacle to Montague's career.

By JAMES J. DELANEY
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Montague, who has been a major force in the entertainment industry, is expected to be a major player in the coming years. However, the lawsuit could significantly impact his future prospects. The case is being heard in the Superior Court of Hollywood.

He's Grandfather Twice in One Day

MONTAGUE, R. I., Oct. 22.—The actor, who has been a major force in the entertainment industry, today has become a grandfather twice in one day.

The actor, who is well-known in the literary world, was called to the stand by the defense to testify that the will was not signed by Mrs. Hahn. The case is being heard in the Superior Court of Providence.

Dick Harlow Talks
On Harvard Football

Budget Time at Training Sessions

By JACK CONWAY

DICK HARLOW was seated on the floor in front of a small screen in Frankie Ryan's office in the Harvard A. A. watching moving pictures of the Harvard-Dartmouth game.

This contest is now a matter of Hutchinson history, and Harlow called each play before it appeared on the screen. The plays of the first half are shown clearly.

"He's a fast man," was Harlow's only comment as Hutchinson got away on his first long run for a touchdown.

It was only possible to get pictures of the plays in the early part of the second half as it got dark as a result of the terrific rain storm. These pictures included Hutchinson's second run for a touchdown. They showed that Struck of Harvard, while on the ground, got one hand on one of Hutchinson's legs, that the great Dartmouth sophomore stumbled for the fraction of a second, recovered his balance and raced on for his second touchdown.

Early in the game the film showed a Harvard player dropping a forward pass received behind the Dartmouth goal line. If it had been caught, it would have meant a Harvard touchdown, and might have led to a Crimson victory.

Harlow at no time criticized harshly the playing of a single Harvard man. He pointed out mistakes made by players on both eleven, but he always had some excuse for the erring youngster.

He expressed himself as a keen observer of the game, who knew the game well, and who was not at all biased in his opinion. He was a fine fellow, and a fine player.

Harlow Praises Dick Wells

LATER SATURDAY HARLOW was in the Harvard A. A. with a group of Harvard players.

"What do you think of Dick Wells of Marblehead who is playing in the Princeton backfield?" I asked the Harvard coach.

"Wells is one of the finest backs in the country," replied Harlow quickly. "This youngster has come along rapidly, and looks almost as good as Frank of Yale."

"Princeton has a great back in Jack White. He has been out of the game with injuries, but may be in there against us on Saturday. So Princeton tackles, who have also been on the injured list, will probably pop into action on Saturday."

Dick assured me that he was not at all worried about the Princeton players. He said that he was sure that the Harvard team would be able to handle them.

"I rate McLeod as Dartmouth's leading back," replied Harlow. "Of course, Hutchinson did a swell job against us last Saturday, but on next performance I must give the top rating to McLeod."

"Hutchinson is an exceptionally fast youngster. He always seems to be going at top speed. The boy is a natural."

I asked him if he had been hard against the Dartmouth game by the position of the players.

"Dartmouth was obliged to play on the same field," replied Harlow simply. "The defeat was a keen disappointment to our boys, but it didn't break their spirit. They will be in there fighting for all they are worth against Princeton."

Budget Time at Football Drills

FRANKIE RYAN and Joe Cashman accompanied me to Soldiers Field for the football practice.

Harlow and his assistant coaches each had a slip of paper on which was budgeted the time for the football drill. There was time allotted for tackling the dummy, scrimmage, signals, kicking and other football drills.

Harlow said that he was not at all worried about the Princeton players. He said that he was sure that the Harvard team would be able to handle them.

Even a player who gets hurt in the game is not satisfied if he is not in the game. He is not satisfied if he is not in the game. He is not satisfied if he is not in the game.

"There'll be some good football games on Saturday," said Harlow, following the practice.

"Dartmouth and Yale should furnish a torrid session, while it should be a great battle between Notre Dame and Minnesota," went on Dick.

"How about Harvard and Princeton?" I questioned.

"That will be a good game, too," replied Harlow, "and we're hoping."

I left Harlow and his Harvard friends and went to the secret which told the Princeton of the victory in its game in the Palmer Stadium on Saturday.
